On June 18 he left a pair of boys with Pa and Ma Arthur Eider: July 28, a boy and girl with Arthur Kent and wife, and June 12 a pair of boys with Lowell Beggs and wife.

He paid his first visit with the coming of 1911, at the home of Emery Davis, January 3, leaving a boy, and closed up his annual visit on December 27 at the home of Harvey Williams by leaving a boy.

The year 1912 being a leap year we look for the stork to be especially partial to the mammas by presenting them with more girls than boys. This was the case in 1908 and was the fourth time in 16 years that girl babies outnumbered the boys. During those four years, 1903, 1905, 1907 and 1908, there were 446 girls born and 393

During the year the stork visited 194 homes, leaving 100 boys and 94 girls.

(BY EARL A. ROCK, CO. SUPT.)

Considering the ex reme cold weather the third district meeting. held at Craig last Saturday, was well No. 1. attended by pupils, patrons and teachers. More teachers were in attendance at this meeting than any other district meeting we have had this year.

On account of late trains the couny superintendent and the representaive, Mr. Geo. Melcher, from the State Department, missed the morning ses sion.

Supt. Schlefebusch presided at the morning session. The pupils of Craig school gave a program which occupied the entire session.

The afternoon session began at promptly 1:30 p. m. with an address by C. W. Annibal, a resident of Craig. He made a splendid talk and made many helpful suggestions as to What Parents Can Do to Improve our Schools." He emphasized the fact that parents should co-operate with boards of directors in the selection of the best of teachers; and the co-operation of parents and teachers so as to have a mutual understanding of pupils and their work; also that parents could aid in securing better hygienic conditions, improving school property and securing better school spirit.

Miss Artie Armstrong gave a good talk on "Improving and Beautifying School Grounds." Among her other important thoughts and suggestions were the grading and leveling of grounds, planting trees and shrubbery so as to be attractive and not in the way of play; and the location of well and outbuildings so as not to mar the beauty of school property.

Mr. Geo. Melcher, chief clerk from the State Department, gave a talk on "Consolidation." He did not advance t lot of theories, but gave simple and solid facts. He gathered his statisics and information from the 2000 consolidated schools, already founded and conning in the United States. He said that the little, one-roomed school with one teacher and twenty ave pupils and six or seven grades had served its purpose in early days and served it well; but the day for better and more advanced rural education was at hand, and consolidation was sure to come sooner or later.

With consolidation comes better and more efficient teachers; better graded schools, more time for recitations; closer supervision and more thorough and efficient education. The country boy or girl may attend t high school in some town or city. but there he or she does not receive a practical farmer's education. City schools are maintained for the purpose of giving the city children an education so that they will be able to meet the demands of the commercial and business world. Manual training, domestic science and agriculture cannot be satisfactorily taught in the present rural school. Because in the average school of twenty-five pupils and twenty-four classes a day, time necessary for these new and demanded subjects is not to be found. With consolidation and three or four teachers the school will be so graded and supervised that the necessary time will be had. Mr. Melcher and patrons of Liberty township discussed the practicability of the proposed high school, and the law pertaining to the formation and maintaining such. success of consolidated schools of ment Editors and Special Contributors; which he was personally acquainted.

Mr. Frank Perdue, of Lincoln, made a short talk on the consolidated schools in Nebraska, and their success. He said where these schools had been founded it would be impossible to convince those people that the one-roomed school of six grades: twenty-four recitations a day and one teacher was better than the consolidated school. Miss Mildred Adams and pupils, of Marietta, announce that they have earned $19.17 with which they will purchase new window shades and books for the school. Miss Etta VanVickle's school at This is one of the schools crowded for room. She and pupils gave a box supper and earned money to have the house papered.
